SPRING TERM - Friday 29th January

Message from Mrs Ming

Now that we are getting more used to our new way of working, you all continue to impress me with your dedication and how well you have adapted. I want to say a big thank you to you all including parents but also to your teachers who have worked incredibly hard over the last few weeks to make sure you all keep learning.

Next week is Children's mental health week and we all feel that it is important to keep looking after our minds as well as our bodies especially during lockdown so have some nice activities planned for you. Keep safe and have a lovely weekend 😊

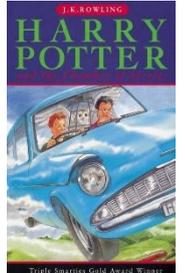

Staying safe

It is really important that while we are using so much technology, we continue to keep ourselves safe. The PCSO presentation that was posted last week highlighted some of the ways we could do this and asked you to create some posters to help others remember.

Well done to everyone who sent a poster in... you really have a good understanding of how to keep safe but especially well done to Ivan W in Y3 and Jack O in Y4 whose posters were chosen to be in this week's newsletter!

Reading ambassadors

This week's ambassador is Heidi in Y5. I am reading the most amazing book, it is one of my favourites. The title of the book is a Harry Potter and the chamber of secrets. This book is about a boy called Harry Potter, he's a wizard. He lives with his cousin, auntie and uncle who are very mean to him. One day he gets a letter from Hogwarts telling him he's a wizard, he can't believe it. Hagrid comes and rescues Harry and takes him to live at Hogwarts school. He makes lots of friends and has to try and protect himself from lord Voldemort who wants to kill him. It's a very exciting book and I love the film too.

Let us know what you are reading and next week you might be our reading ambassador!

Google Meet

Now that we are getting the hang of Google Classroom, some of the classes have begun to do welfare meets to get together. This is a safe and secure way to meet online as a class. Children can only access using the link provided by the teachers and once it is over the link is locked. There are some rules which we need to follow to make sure everyone is protected.

- 1) Please make sure you are dressed appropriately for the meet (no PJs)
- 2) Please make sure you are not in your bedrooms no matter how tidy they are
- 3) Only children on screen please - the teachers will be there to supervise

The children have really loved seeing each other on the meets we have already done and it will be great to see more of you 😊
